

First Name	City	#1 CHOICE	Why?	#2 CHOICE	Why?	#3 CHOICE	Why?
Daniela Boden	Bonnors Ferry Sagle	Summer 1991 Summer 1992	Love the black and white wave contrast It's funny, and it mentions Pat.	Summer 2007 Winter 2017	Love the colors - they pop Cool bird, and it's a winter cover without snow.	Winter 2017 Summer 1995	The bird is adorable! Cool old train picture.
Kathleen	Sagle	Summer 1992	This was my dad's last summer. His grandparents homestead here and this is where he was born and raised. He specifically asked me to pick up a copy of your magazine to read. I held on to it until this past summer as a keepsake memory of his last visit.	Summer 1994	My grandfather was a logger/river driver. He sadly drowned at the mouth of the Clarkfork when the logs opened up and he fell in. Although I never met him this cover reminded me of the many tales told of his life and loosing him in 1926. Now 100 years ago!	Summer 1996	My Uncle Stanley Smith whose name is honored at Memorial Field lost his life in WW11. Like so many of the local enlistments, he was one of Ross Hall's many military men whose photos were taken for the families. This cover also held special family history memories.
Cassidy	Bozeman	Summer 1993	nothing beats a red canoe!	Summer 1991	Artistic photo and style	Summer 2007	Beautiful drawing and features specific details that are instantly recognized as Sandpoint!
Debbie Cindy	Sandpoint Sagle	Summer 1994 Summer 1994	Love the logging history Historic	Summer 2024 Winter 2026	Waterfalls are the best Loved learning about the rescue dogs	Summer 1991 Summer 2014	Incredible Shot, love the God Rays! I love the sound of the trains. We live close to the train track on Gypsy Bay and it's the sound of our lives out here.
Adam	Sandpoint	Summer 1994	This harks back to the history of sandpoint (and greater area) in the logging industry, and how much of an impact it had on the town	Summer 1996	The little known Farragut state park that was a major part of our Navy's training for WW2, it will forever be a key component to why the US won the war	Summer 2021	Who doesn't love the scotchman's peak goats! It's almost as iconic as America and Apple pie
Becky	Sandpoint	Summer 1994	Love Sandpoint History	Summer 1995	My great grandfather came to Sandpoint at worked for the railroad in 1908	Winter 2004	My grandfather was friends with Ross Hall and I have some wonderful photos of my grandmother at Schweitzer in the early days
Susan	Sandpoint	Summer 1994	The unque logging history of Bonner County.	Summer 2001	The unique native American history of BonnerCounty	Winter 2019	The moose can be found in the "wilds" of Bonner County and even in Sandpoint city limits!
Chloe	Sandpoint	Summer 1995	I love the old school vibe!	Summer 2023	Maybe the bear with the huckleberries will scare people away from wanting to go picking. /1	Winter 1996	That's the year I was born and I live how crazy these trees looked up on Schweitzer truly magical feeling!
Connie Lisa Patti	Hope clark fork Sandpoint	Summer 1996 Summer 1997 Summer 1997	My dad was at Farragut Native American culture is compelling. Kalispel man is a handsome tribute to our history. I was a kid and it was the most epic snow season ever- we lost power for like 5 days and built an igloo outside our house	Summer 2015	I love watching the Kokanee through my camera underwater
Marie	Sagle	Summer 2006	Show's the beauty of Lake Pend Oreille.	Summer 2021	Our incredible Lake as viewed by our mountain goat neighbor.	Winter 2019	Wildlife is a big part of Sandpoint.
Eve	Sandpoint	Summer 2007	My favorite artist is Maxfield Parrish. This cover reminds me of his work in its lavish use of color and light. Also, most of the Sandpoint Magazine's covers have been photos and this cover is a delightful exception!	Winter 1992	This timeless image speaks of a child's pure exuberance in the snow and sun. It's a ski town's twist on the snow angels that everyone remembers from childhood.	Summer 1997	This cover pays worthy recognition to the indigenous people who lived here long before most residents. It depicts the richness and complexity of a culture that we all should honor.
Deana Sherry Lisa	Sandpoint Sagle Sandpoint	Summer 2007 Summer 2007 Summer 2007	Love the artwork! Natalie Jennifer	Sandpoint Sandpoint	Winter 2015 Winter 2017	It's cute and happy. It's simplicity is eye catching.	Winter 1992 Winter 2019	It's adorable and 90s. The first issue I read. Plus the moose is breathtaking.	Winter 2005 Summer 2019	It makes me feel happy. An amazing and accurate photo of the lake.
Jen	Sandpoint	Winter 2017	I would actually hang this cover on the wall in my living room. Stunningly beautiful. (Yes, I'm stealing your prompt -- but the bird IS adorable.)	Winter 1992	This is how I've experienced most of my Sandpoint winters - wiped flat on my back on some texture of frozen surface, knees in the wrong directions, possibly ignoring some twinges of pain... but 100% blissed out.	Summer 2025	Insanely good photograph. (And, my love of that photo is colored by memories of how timely the coverage felt to locals. With a twice-a-year magazine, that's not always easy to pull off.)
Sienna	Sandpoint	Winter 2017	Wings of Winter: It's such a cute image! My family and I spend a lot of time birding in Sandpoint so this cover brings back a lot of great memories!	Winter 2022	For the Love of Snow: This is the first magazine cover I remember seeing where the photography really impressed me! I ski with my friends regularly and I know the skill it takes to perform this kind of stunt and take this kind of picture.	Winter 1992	Pile 'O' Smile at Schweitzer Mountain: This cover definitely just brings a smile to my face! It's older and I've never seen it but it reminds me of when I was young learning how to ski on Schweitzer.
Katie	Sandpoint	Winter 2017	I moved to Sandpoint in February 2017 and this was the first cover I saw! Plus I love the contrast of the yellow eyes and beak against the blue background.	Winter 2025	Love our backcountry playground!	Winter 1994	Because those pants are amazing!
Rindy	Sandpoint	Winter 2017	I like the minimalist, clean image of this cover	Winter 1996	I love the snow ghosts of Schweitzer, mostly for the memory it evokes when we first moved to the area.	Winter 2025	Such an iconic picture of Schweitzer and Lake Pend Oreille, I feel like I'm there enjoying the skiing.
Treva April	Sandpoint Sandpoint	Winter 2019 Winter 2019	Love me a moose Moosing Around: I really love moose. Moved here from Alaska and we saw moose daily & miss it.	Summer 2012 Winter 1996	Beautiful osprey shot I love how the snow is captured in this picture with the blue sky.	Summer 1994 Summer 2007	Classic logging picture Moose, lake and long bridge: Again, live the moose, I think this picture IS Sandpoint at it's finest.
Karen Chloa Leana Janis Isabella	Cocolalla sandpoint Sandpoint Sandpoint Sandpoint Boise	Winter 2019 Winter 2019 Winter 2019 Winter 2019 Winter 2019	Magnificent Moose! Who doesn't love a big moose Love moose! Just says winter is amazing! I interned at Keokee in the summer of 2019 and wrote a few articles for the winter 2019 magazine. Will always be a favorite!	Summer 2024 Summer 2011 Winter 2017 Summer 2019 Summer 2008	Soothing beauty of a waterfall cool POV Love the simplicity! Says it all!	Summer 2013 Summer 2019 Summer 2019 Summer 2021 Winter 2016	The wildness of wolves gorgeous!! Love camping! The picture is stunning! Reminds me of skiing at Schweitzer!
Sandra	Sandpoint	Winter 2024	The photo is amazing with the reflection in his goggles. Plus the ice on his face. Amazing!	Summer 2018	We are going to be asking the same question this summer, I'm afraid.	Winter 1992	Pure joy!
Ryan	Dover	Winter 2024	As a rider, this cover touches the core meaning of great days on the mountain!	Summer 2007	Love art, festival, lake, wildlife. This has it all.	Winter 2009	Unique activity to Sandpoint! If you have skated LPO you know the JOY!
Lori	Sandpoint	Winter 2024	I've always loved this cover. The frozen mustache and beard pull you in right away. The reflection of the photographer and the Schweitzer slopes behind them feels like a hidden story inside the image. It is one of those shots where everyone involved probably had no idea they had just captured something this epic.	Summer 2019	This cover makes me think of boat camping trips on the Green Monarchs and those amazing summer nights on the lake that make you realize how special this place is. We live where people use their vacation days to visit!	Winter 2019	I picked this one because it feels so true to life here. We have had more than a few moose stroll through our neighborhood in town, and this cover brings that same mix of awe and "only in Sandpoint" energy!
Belinda	Sagle	Winter 2025	Incredible view with the lake in the background. Breathe taking!	Summer 2019	Feels like being present in this beautiful place we get to call home.	Summer 2009	Makes me feel like being a kid again! We are never too old, right!
Kim Tracy	Sandpoint Sandpoint	Winter 2026 Winter 2026	Dogs and winter Abbey the avy dog. Cool perspective and story	Winter 1996 Winter 2025	Gorgeous picture Love seeing Sandpoint's big beautiful lake view.	Summer 2015 Winter 2017	Great capture of the fish Because the owl shot is amazing
Stephanie	Sandpoint	Winter 2026	I remember seeing this on the newsstand and it just stopped me. The look on that good boy's face saying "I found him!" is precious.	Winter 2009	Ice skating on Lake Pend Oreille is a Sandpoint bucket list item for me!	Winter 2019	It just never gets old seeing these majestic creatures here.
